Colleen Moore

Many of our friends and customers have wondered how we got through these difficult times.

We still have a few faithful men and my family has come to the rescue admirably. My wife manages the office; Dick is happiest operating the machinery and "Genny" does her part. The boys who once worked for us are scattered all over the world. What once seemed like work to them is now a pleasant memory and they send us pictures of (you would never guess) roses from many lands.

It takes so long to grow specimen plant material that the real shortage of stock has not yet been felt. So it is perfectly understandable if certain items gradually disappear from our lists.

We shall be glad to have you visit us whenever you can come and remember it would be thoughtful to bring a friend.

Paul R. Bosley

Mrs. Paul R. Bosley

Pat. 441

Beautiful pointed buds, opening to a perfectly formed 40 petaled flower, measuring $3\frac{1}{2}$ -4 inches across. Visitors invariably select this as the finest yellow in our fields. It is a deep yellow sport of the popular Rose, Mme. Joseph Perraud, which was a Bagatelle Gold Medal winner. Sometimes the early June blooms are primrose yellow and the fall blooms are deep, almost orange yellow. Don't fail to get it.

Hollies

Hollies are easier grown than many of the so-called hardy evergreens. Buy nursery-grown stock and follow planting directions carefully.

AMERICAN HOLLY

(Ilex opaca)

Holly makes the aristocrat of all hedges. Evergreen throughout the year and covered with red berries during the winter.

Holly Hedge Offer

25-ft. $30.00

20 Holly 10 to 12-in. size (15 in. apart) including 3 males

Holly Hedge Offer

50-ft. $59.00

40 Holly 10 to 12-in. size (15 in. apart) including 5 males

American Holly

Dark evergreen leaves and bright red berries; rich in Christmas tradition. Holly has so many landscape uses that every home-owner can surely have enough from which to cut his Christmas branches. A Holly by your door is a token of hospitality. It also makes a perfect clipped hedge that boy or dog will never violate. Or give it space and feed it well for a specimen. Some place nearby there must be a male tree, a companion for the berry-bearing female trees. You must have at least one pair.

10-12 in.....	$1 75	2-3 ft.....	$5 00
1-1 1/2 ft.....	2 50	3-4 ft.....	6 75
1 1/2-2 ft.....	3 75	4-5 ft.....	8 75

NAMED VARIETIES OF HOLLY

With this catalogue we are offering a new female holly of our own development, which has not yet been suitably named. It has been tested under the number "1-B." Our method of propagation insures the continuance of all the fine characteristics of the original parent, which is the dense growing, dark leaved specimen so many of you have admired growing near the mill stone at the cross paths outside our office.

"1-B" available in sizes up to 2-3 ft.
Add 50% to the above prices.

DILATUSH HOLLIES

Due to an unprecedented demand, we are compelled to withhold the Dilatush hollies from this catalogue. We are propagating as fast as stock will allow, so don't lose track of this fine group. Add 50% to the above prices for these varieties, whenever and in whatever sizes they are available from time to time.

ILEX CRENATA CONVEXA

(Box-Leaf Holly)

A choice shiny-leaved evergreen (pictured on opposite page) with foliage curving outward. It can be sheared to hold the growth to one inch a year, or if left unsheared will grow six inches. Always neat, it is unexcelled for an evergreen edging, low hedge or specimen plant. A splendid city evergreen that will take real abuse.

Nicely clipped specimens at the following prices:

4 to 6 in.....	$0 75	12 to 15 in.....	$2 50

ILEX GLABRA

Another interesting evergreen (not illustrated). The leaves are about the size of your thumb print, and growth is informal and graceful. It responds well to shearing.

HUGE HYBRID BLUEBERRIES

A beautiful shrub—Fine edible fruit

Blueberries have lily-of-the-valley-like flowers in the spring, splendid summer foliage turning brilliant red in the fall, and colorful twigs during the winter. We recommend the 3-year plants as the most practical size, since they are then beginning to bear. Varieties should be mixed to insure a heavy setting of fruit.

We offer 4 varieties: Rubel, Rancocas, Pioneer and Jersey.

3-yr. plants, $1.50 ea.; 3 or more at $1.35 ea.; 10 or more at $1.25 ea.

AZALEAS

“Queen of Flowering Shrubs”

Azaleas are most effective when planted in groups of three or more. They bloom best in full sun, although Azalea Kämpferi does very well in partial shade. Planting directions come with every order.

AZALEA MOLLIS (pictured opposite)

They bloom in great masses, before the leaves develop, in mixed shades of yellow, reddish orange, apricot and salmon. All of our plants are seedlings grown from imported named varieties, insuring brilliant colors.

Azalea, Louisa Hunnewell blooms in the softer terra-cotta, buff and apricot shades. Add 25c ea. to the above Mollis prices

These hardy Ghent Azaleas are in their glory in early June, after the other Azaleas and Rhododendrons have gone, thereby extending the blooming season considerably. The most severe winter has never hurt buds or plants. They are sturdy and long lived; some are fragrant. Colors range from orange to soft pink, with pink predominating.

AZALEA KÄMPFERI HYBRIDS

(Pictured opposite)

Red has been added to Azaleas with the Kämpferi blood. Hybridizing of them has added hardiness. We are growing only the hybrids that survived our record winter of 1933-34. Demand the dependable ones by name. Fedora and Fireball are the most outstanding of the varieties listed below.

Carmen. Profuse blooming; true rose color.

Fedora. Very prolific; compact growing; deep pink.

Fireball. (Illustrated.) The finest true red hybrid.

Zampa. Deep pink; blooms two weeks later than the others thereby extending the display of this group.

THE BOSLEY NURSERY

Grafted Hybrid Rhododendrons

Above is a photograph of a Hybrid Rhododendron planting which you can duplicate in your own yard. Rhododendrons have a double landscape value, since they hold their broad, evergreen leaves the year round and produce such a spectacular sight when in bloom. Our plants are grafted from stock originally imported from Holland. Do not confuse these with wild Rhododendrons. Contrary to general belief, the hybrids do not require shade. The most effective plantings are those in mass effect, combining all the colors for contrast and interest.

The red Rhododendrons are spectacular in bloom but seldom have enough foliage to make them show to advantage as individual plants. Varieties such as Roseum Elegans or Roseum Superbum always have ample foliage and help the general mass effect. Cunningham's White is unexcelled as a dwarf specimen foliage variety. Cultural directions come with your order.

The 9 to 12-in. plants seldom have flower buds but make fine planting stock.
